DELTA STATE

UNIVERSITY

he 2007 Broom staff is proud to dedicate this year's annual to Bill Lester. Lester has been with Delta State for 33 years, serving as Chair of the Art Department since 2003. Lester first started at DSU as a professor of watercolor and materials, but now is currently teaching drawing and design classes.

Lester received his B.B.A. in 1971 and his M.F.A. in 1974, both from the University of Mississippi.

Lester is a dedicated professor who "would like to help individual instructors continue to develop their own ideas and creativity" as well as seeing them "relate that creativity in their classes; one cannot be an effective teacher unless he or she is creative."

Family life is very important to him as well. His wife, Tennie, works at Delta State in the BPAC. He has one daughter, Marguerite McLeod, who is an art major at Mississippi State.

Community involvement is very important to Lester. He is involved in his local church, Covenant Presbyterian Church, where he is a Deacon. He served as the Crosstie Festival Chairman for eight years. He currently serves as Executive Director of the Dockery Farms foundation, which recently was placed on the National Historic Registry.

A few of his many passions includes horseback riding, turkey and duck hunting, and spending time with his family.

Collier Parker, Dean of College of Arts and Sciences, had this to say about our honoree, "Bill is one of the best story tellers I've ever known, which makes him an unforgettable teacher. It's impossible to take one of his courses and not feel like you have entered a magical world that only a few privileged people get to experience. I'm very happy that Bill is being honored by having this yearbook dedicated to him. He is very deserving."

brown bag

Every spring, a selected group of Delta State students attend the annual Brown Bag Luncheon, which is held at the state Capitol in Jackson, Miss. Sponsored by the Student Government Association, this group of students meets with state legislators and representatives over lunch and discusses imperative issues concerning the University. Topics vary and usually range from the increase in student tuition to more funding for upgrades in science labs to more parking spaces. This event helps state leaders better understand the needs of the University.

"Brown Bag is a great opportunity to have students involved in building a relationship between the campus and state legislature. -Chanell Shorter

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association plays an integral role on the Delta State campus. The Executive Cabinet consists of six elected officials as well as 12 appointed directors. This group of students encourages the student body to participate in events and forums designed to promote student interaction and community involvement. Campus clean ups, diversity forums, political conversations, and homecoming activities are just a few of the many events the SGA hosts. The Student Senate as well as Student Court are active in their legislation and cases, respectively. The Senate debates concerns surrounding all aspects of student life, from the attendance policy to ice machines in dormitories to more trash receptacles on campus. The Student Court hears a wide variety of cases, especially from parking ticket appeals. The SGA strives to serve the students to the fullest extent.

Delta State beats Valdosta

Camera crews arrived early to begin setting up for the televised game.

For the first time in his storybook career, Scott Eyster managed to lead the Statesmen to a win over the Valdosta State Blazers.

On Thursday, Oct. 12, television crews rolled onto the campus of Delta State for the Gulf South Conference game of the week which featured the Statesmen dousing the Blazers 35-28.

Eyster had one of his best games of the season throwing for 334 yards and three touchdowns with no interceptions.

Eyster's first touchdown came just over four minutes into the game as he found Eric Marshall from 34 yards out. Marshall finished with four catches and 126 yards to go with the touchdown. Jeremy Ricks caught four passes for 33 yards and a score. Robert Davis and Robert Moore added 86 and 85 yards, respectively.

The Statesmen rushing game also had one of their better nights as Ken Cox carried seven times for 39 yards and a touchdown, and Steven Davis added 19 yards and a score.

Eyster plays one of his best games of the season

The Statesmen defense also came up big in the win, holding the high-powered offense to just 384 yards total offense, over 30 yards less than their season average. The defense also stopped the Blazer rushing attack which only gained 67 yards, over 50 less than the season average.

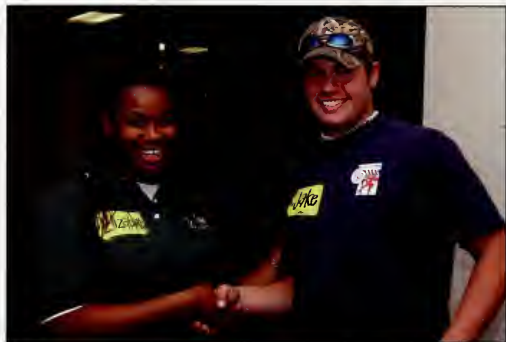

What might go down as the biggest defensive play of the season came with 2:17 left in the fourth quarter when Myles Mason intercepted Valdosta quarterback Willie Copeland's pass to seal the victory for the Statesmen.

The win was also the first for head coach Rick Rhoades over Valdosta State and marked the first time the Statesmen have beaten their bitter rivals since that magical season in 2000, the Statesmen's first ever National Championship.

The Price is Right orientation

Orientation 2006 was fun for everyone. The auditorium was transformed into a real life game set parodying the widely popular game show "The Price is Right." The orientation leaders put a lot of work and creativity into making this year's orientation fun and informative at the same time. Freshmen and transfer students were able to interact with each other and learn about Delta State. The parent's orientation answered many of the questions concerning the campus, finances, and academics. The 2006 orientation team included: Debbie Abide, director, Darby Lamb, Nakikke Wallace, Cassie Cole, Jason Cole, Brittany Flippo, Kemisha Gabby, Sarah Herrick, Claire Howarth, Justin Kennon, Mary Claire Kinison, Ashley Martin, Erin Meador, Amanda Middleton, Jon Mark Nail, Elizabeth Oredein, Dustin Pambianchi, Cortney Robertson, and Erik Taylor.

The 2006 Orientation Team performs "The Price is Right" during Orientation. The Team waves goodbye to the audience after spinning the big wheel with Jon Mark Nail as Bob Barker.

Jon Mark Nail explains the rules of "The Price is Right" to the audience of incoming freshmen students. Contestants were given a chance to win a variety of prizes including a lifetime supply of Goldbond.

Graduation

Gwendolyn Sykes, Chief Financial Officer for NASA, gave the commencement address at this year's ceremony. Sykes's address to the students was uplifting and inspiring. She urged graduates to dream, to be hopeful, to be inspired, to be resilient, and to stay true to family and friends. Over 425 Delta States students graduated on May 13th. The First Diploma, which is presented to the four-year graduating senior with the highest grade point average on a minimum of 112 academic credit hours, was awarded to Rebecca Carter, a Delta State graduate with a bachelor's degree in music of Grenada. The Second Diploma was awarded to Robert Adam Martyn, a Delta State graduate with a bachelor's degree in Social Science of Greenville.

Morgan Freeman visits Delta State

The graduates of Delta State, at its 79th Spring Commencement ceremony, shared their love of education and commitment to a brighter future with this year's recipient of an honorary degree – Hollywood icon, Morgan Freeman. "We are privileged to honor Morgan Freeman, an outstanding Mississippian whose long and distinguished career has brought great pride to everyone in his home state and particularly to all of us who live in the Delta," Delta State President, Dr. John M. Hilpert. Freeman was awarded the Doctor of Arts and Letters degree in front of an audience of graduates, faculty, family members and friends. In response, Freeman acknowledged his elementary teacher, Leola Gregory Williams, at the reception following the commencement ceremony, by remarking on how Williams inspired and challenged him "to make something of my life, to do good."

He accepted his large framed degree with a smile "I had two pages of remarks written, but for the sake of being shorter, I will simply express my appreciation, my gratitude and say, 'Thank you.'"

Sports Recap

Softball

The Lady Statesmen had one of their best seasons ever on the diamond. They finished the season with a record-setting 49 wins compared to 23 losses. The Lady Statesmen captured their second-straight GSC West Division title and advanced to the championship game of the GSC Tournament. David Kuhn was voted Coach of the Year in the GSC and eight players were named to the All-GSC team. Alyse Hasty was also named to the NFCA All-American team after she rewrote the Delta State record books.

Baseball

The Statesmen celebrated their thirteenth-straight Gulf South Conference West Division title after a 37-17 record on the diamond. Despite being ranked first or second in the South Central Region poll for most of the season, the Statesmen did not receive an invitation to the NCAA Tournament. The Statesmen had seven players named to the All-GSC team including junior pitcher Rusty Rayborn, who garnished West Division Player of the Year honors. Rayborn and Bryan Williamson were also named to the Rawlings/ABCA All-American team.

Tennis

The Statesmen tennis team got off to a rocky start, but finished with an 11-11 record after their semi-final loss to Valdosta State in the GSC Tournament. The Statesmen placed four on the All-GSC team: senior Benjamin Plongenet, juniors Thomas Pasquet and David Voravongsa, and sophomore Rafael Weigard. The Lady Statesmen tennis team finished with a 15-6 record including an 11-1 conference record, but fell just short of a conference title after losing to eventual champion West Florida in the semi-finals. The women also placed four on the All-GSC team: senior Mindy Salas, juniors Paula Uchida and Helene Thalamy, and freshman Milena Araujo.

Men's Basketball

The Statesmen enjoyed one of their most successful seasons in history. The Statesmen tore through the schedule to finish 30-2, a school record for wins. Along the way, the Statesmen captured the GSC Tournament Championship, hosted the regional tournament and went on a school record, 26-game winning-streak before their season ended in the semi-final of the regional tournament. Steve Rives was named National Coach of the Year. Jasper Johnson was named National Player of the Year, as well as the Howell Award winner.

Women's Basketball

The Lady Statesmen basketball team had a spectacular season, finishing with a 30-3 record. They won the Gulf South Conference tournament, but lost a heartbreaker against conference-foe Henderson State in the regional final. The Lady Statesmen placed Lavanda Stewart and Jennifer Rushing on the All-GSC team, while head coach Sandra Rushing earned Coach of the Year honors. Amber Gean was named to the GSC Academic team, while Natalie Ellington was named to the GSC Academic Honor Roll.

Swimming/Diving

The Statesmen and Lady Statesmen swimming and diving teams made a strong run through one of the toughest schedules in Division II with a group of young swimmers. The Statesmen finished 10th at the NCAA Finals in Indianapolis led by freshman Tiago Olivera, who was eighth in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle, and the Lady Statesmen finished 14th led by sophomore Jennifer Artchuk, who finished third in the 100-yard butterfly. She also finished fourth in the 200-yard butterfly. The team was also named an Academic All-America Swimming Team by the College Swim Coaches Association.

Greek Week

Greek Week has become quite a tradition on the Delta State campus. The sponsors of this year's Greek Week include Pan-Hellenic, Interfraternity Council, and Panhellenic.

During Greek Week, all of the Greek Organizations on campus have the opportunity to come together and enjoy different events ranging from step shows and cookouts to the more traditional awards banquet. The Step Show, which is widely popular on campus, was won by Phi Mu. Several Greek Organizations held cookouts on the Quad. The week of the Greeks was brought to an end with the annual Greek Banquet. The Greek Man of the Year for Pan-Hellenic went to Robert Smart, and the Greek Woman of the Year for Pan-Hellenic went to Lisa Williams. The Greek Man of the Year for IFC went to Trey Warrington, Pi Kappa Alpha. The Greek Woman of the Year for Panhellenic went to Tracy Scott.

Pig Pickin'

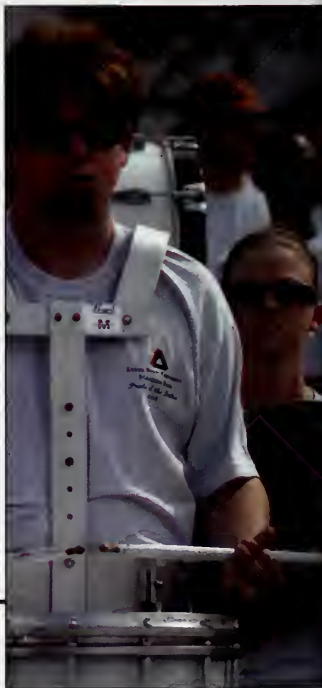

Prior to the football kick-off against Gulf South Conference opponent, Ouachita Baptist, Delta State hosted its 21st annual Pig Pickin' at Shumate Park, consisting of tailgating and delicious barbecue. Other activities included the CellularSouth Little Okra Fun Fair, a pep rally performed by the cheerleaders and Delta Belles, raffles of a children's bicycle and Viking products, and the unveiling of the new Okra mascot costume. The Delta State band marched through Shumate Park prior to the "Champions Walk," where the football players were cheered on by the cheerleaders and the crowd. Due to weather circumstances, the game did not start until 8:30 and after two delays, ended a little after midnight, as the Statesmen emerged victorious.

Springfest

Delta State held its 34th annual Springfest on the campus quadrangle. This year's activities featured "wax hands," henna tattooing, the inflatable bungee run, "make you own pixiesticks," Velcro wall, and the solid rock climbing wall. The Union Program Council also sponsored "An Adrenaline Rush Obstacle Course," where students could jump, squeeze, slide, and crawl in their way through the multitude of obstacles to catch the ultimate "adrenaline rush."

A new addition to Springfest was a hamburger cook-off on the quad. Different organizations teamed up and created unique styles. The Kappa Deltas won the hamburger cook-off.

Whild Peach, who has made appearances on Saturday Night Live, the 2002 Grammy Awards, and MTV's TRL, opened for The Breakfast Club, a band formed in 1994 and currently based in Atlanta, later that evening inside Walter Sillers Coliseum.

Above: The hamburger cook-off was a huge success. Different organizations used their creative skills to design a unique hamburger.

Welcome Week

This year's annual Welcome Week, which allows new students the chance to get acquainted with Delta State, has left an impression on those who attended the events. Student Director of the Union, Will Everitt, took a risk this year by spending more money on the Wednesday night concert, which featured "A Scarlet Empire" and "North Mississippi All-stars." This year's concert drew in a crowd of over 600; easily trumping the attendance at the past four Springfest concerts combined. Another big success during welcome week was the Thursday night drive-in movie which featured "Click." The drive-in was set up in a parking lot beside the stadium and accommodated about 70 vehicles and an average of 217 people. The other events during Welcome Week included the Ice Cream Social held at President Hilpert's house on Tuesday. Games were held on the Quad Thursday; drawing in its biggest crowd with bingo.

Homecoming

Lasso the Lions

One word can describe this year's homecoming; rain, rain and more rain. Tuesday's lip-syncing contest and all of Wednesday's activities were canceled due to the rain. Cross Canadian Ragweed and Mickey and the Motorcars performed at the coliseum on Thursday night. The concert was scheduled to be performed on the football field, but the threat of rain caused the last minute switch in locations. Aside from the rain, homecoming was a huge success. "Lasso the Lions" was the homecoming theme for 2006. The week was full of activities and events for everyone.

The hot dog eating contest drew in students hungry for fun. A career planning seminar was held Tuesday night in Jobe auditorium with guest speaker Sheneka DeBerry from Monster Track. Delta State beauties showed their style and grace at this year's Most Beautiful Pageant held Wednesday night in the BPAC. As the week progressed, the enthusiasm grew. Friday's homecoming parade and pep rally helped everyone get into the spirit. Shumate Park was the place to be for the pre-game where Renaissance performed for the crowd.

It's Raining Cats & Dogs

Pets come in all different shapes and sizes. Some can be small and cuddly while others large and scary. No matter what size your animal, they become a big part of your life. DSU faculty and students are fond of their animals and are not afraid to show their affection. It is not unusual to see people walking their dogs around campus. Mollie and Kim Rushing, both from the art department, make their dog a part of DSU by putting him in their annual pictures.

Pets are not allowed in the dorms on campus but pictures of pets are a whole other story. Die hard pet fanatics never leave home without a picture of their pets. Having the opportunity to show off dear ole Rosko to friends or even strangers is an incentive to keep pictures handy at all times.

For many pet enthusiasts, they do not see their animals as pets but as a part of the family. These animals are not treated like your average back yard strays but more like rich relatives. Some are even treated better than humans at times.

What makes these people so fond of their pets? Is it because of their cute little faces or their bubbly personalities? Whatever the reason one thing is certain; these animal lovers are serious about their pets.

Cell Phone Etiquette

Can you hear me now?

Cellular phones, more now than ever, have become a necessity to Delta State students. It has become an object students just cannot leave at home. Initially, cell phones acted as a way to communicate without having to sit at a land line. Now, cell phones offer news, sports, music, email, and weather in addition to text messaging and games.

Due to the variety of services now available, cell phones come in all different shapes, sizes, and colors. And they keep redesigning them as fast as they think of new ideas.

Delta State students have become dependent on their cell phones, using them throughout their days constantly...as an alarm clock or a calculator or as a planner, to name just a few. Many students also program reminders to themselves, reminding them of meeting times or when to catch the latest episode of Grey's Anatomy.

For safety purposes, it is best to stop walking while texting.

Do not use your phone to make calls during class, only use it for texting!

Texting on your phone can allow you to multi-task and save time.

The Exonerated

"The Exonerated" is based on the experience of six wrongfully convicted persons who served time on death row. Jessica Blank and Erik Jensen, the playwrights, set out in 2000, on a cross-country trip to interview the exonerated men and women who had been sentenced to die for crimes they didn't commit. Material used to create monologues in this play comes from actual affidavits, depositions, police interrogations, and court room testimony. Even though their research reveals a darker side of the justice system, the resilience of the human spirit is evident in the lives of the exonerated.

Above: Jonathan Smith as Gary. Police convinced Gary to tell them how he would hypothetically kill his parents and then used this as a confession to convict him.

The Exonerated was performed in the Jobe Auditorium in late October. The play was directed by Dr. Nancy Clark. Some of the actors in the play portrayed more than one character. The actors are as followed: Chis Adams, Ashley Neal, Karl King, Tiffany Farmer, Jonathan Smith, Shelby Anderson, Maurice Oliver, Claire Dean, Trevor Campbell, Paul Jones, Seth Duhs, Britteny Feazell, Jey Ulmer, Driefus Smith and Andrew Holley. The crew consisted of Doug Watts, stage manager; Logan Bond, Sean Ryan and Jason Anderson on lighting; Anna Paulson and Cassie Coats with make-up; Tricia Walker, music; Chad Washington, sound; and Brittny Huggins, program.

Above: Jey as a cop making an arrest.

Left: Tiffany Farmer as Genesis, Lizzie's maid. Genesis and Lizzie share a mother-daughter relationship. Lizzie has become estranged from her mother and finds comfort and guidance in Genesis.

Right: Daniel Hawthorne as Stephen, Lizzie's father. Miranda not only has an estranged relationship with her daughter but her husband as well.

The Delta Players and the Performance Studies Class presented excerpts from "Lizzie," a novel by Dorothy Shawhan. The play was presented in the spring of 2005 on April 19th in the Jobe Auditorium. The scenes chosen for this production highlight various periods in the life of the title character, Lizzie, from the day of her birth to age twenty.

Dorothy Shawhan, author of Lizzie, began teaching at Delta State University in 1981. She has been Chair of the Language and Literature Department since 1992. The inspiration for the fictional character of Lizzie came from the history of a Clarksdale woman in the 1920's who had a newspaper for women.

Coach Rhoades says goodbye

The Statesmen football program said goodbye at the end of the season to head coach Rick Rhoades, quarterback Scott Eyster and several other seniors, but not before they said hello to the post season for the first time since their national title campaign in 2000.

The gridiron warriors in green and white finished third in the final poll and posted a 12-3 record which included a national semi-final appearance against, eventual national champions, Grand Valley State.

In order to get to Allendale, Mich. the Statesmen beat three of the top four teams in the region, including a 27-10 rematch victory over conference foe, North Alabama in Florence, Ala.

Eyster finished his career as the all-time leading passer in yards with 13,889 and total offense 14,342. The Hammond, La. native threw 116 touchdowns, including his last pass as a college athlete, to tie Chris Hatcher, Valdosta State, for first in the conference.

Eyster and standout linebacker Michael Eubanks were tagged as All-Americans, while junior center Travis Mikel-Allen was named honorable mention. Eubanks finished with 75 tackles including 24 for loss and a team high 10.5 sacks while leading a defense which held opponents to just 13.4 points per game.

The Statesmen also had 13 players selected to Don Hansen's Football Gazette All-Southeast Region team. Earning first team, defensive selections are Eubanks, junior defensive lineman Chris Eccles, freshman linebacker Lardester Hicks, junior safety Jamarcus Wiggins and sophomore cornerback Monterio James.

Offensive first team selections are Eyster, senior wide receiver Robert Davis, junior wide receiver Jeremy Ricks and offensive tackle Dustin Barrick.

Defensive coordinator Ron Roberts will lead the Statesmen next season, putting on the head coaching hat for the first time in his career. Roberts turned the Statesmen defense from one of the worst into one of the best in the country.

Lady Statesmen Cross Country

Sophomore sensation Kristin Williams capped off a tremendous season with a 21st place finish at the NCAA Cross Country South Regional at CBU. "Kristin had a great year for us and I believe the sky's the limit for her potential here at Delta State," said DSU head cross country coach Joey Hall. The Lady Statesmen finished 12th at the Gulf South Conference Championships in Huntsville, Alabama.

Lady Statesman Basketball

The Lady Statesmen have taken some heavy blows in their campaign to defend the Gulf South Conference championship.

A serious knee injury to Renita Jones has left the Lady Statesmen without a dominant post-player, and a knee injury has slowed down Jessica Boyd.

After beating D-I opponent Alabama in an exhibition game, the Lady

Statesmen are just .500 against conference opponents thus far this season.

Jennifer Rushing continues to amaze on the court, and the Lady Statesmen continue to prove that their defense isn't easily overcome, allowing just 47 points per game.

Statesman Basketball

The Statesmen basketball team has picked up right where they left off this season, even though the sideline is full of new faces.

The most notable difference is Jason Conner calling the plays after the retirement of legend Steve Rives. In his first season as head coach, Conner has led the Statesmen in such a way that would make his predecessor extremely proud.

The defending Gulf South Conference champions display a level of class and composure that is second to none. They play hard and they play fast, continuing the tradition of flashy, yet patient offense, and hard-nosed defense that fans have come to expect.

Leading the way is newcomer Johnny Hodge. The junior forward is quickly stealing the show. Marlon McCoy returned from a knee injury and Turmaine Rice continues to shoot well, while playing solid defense.

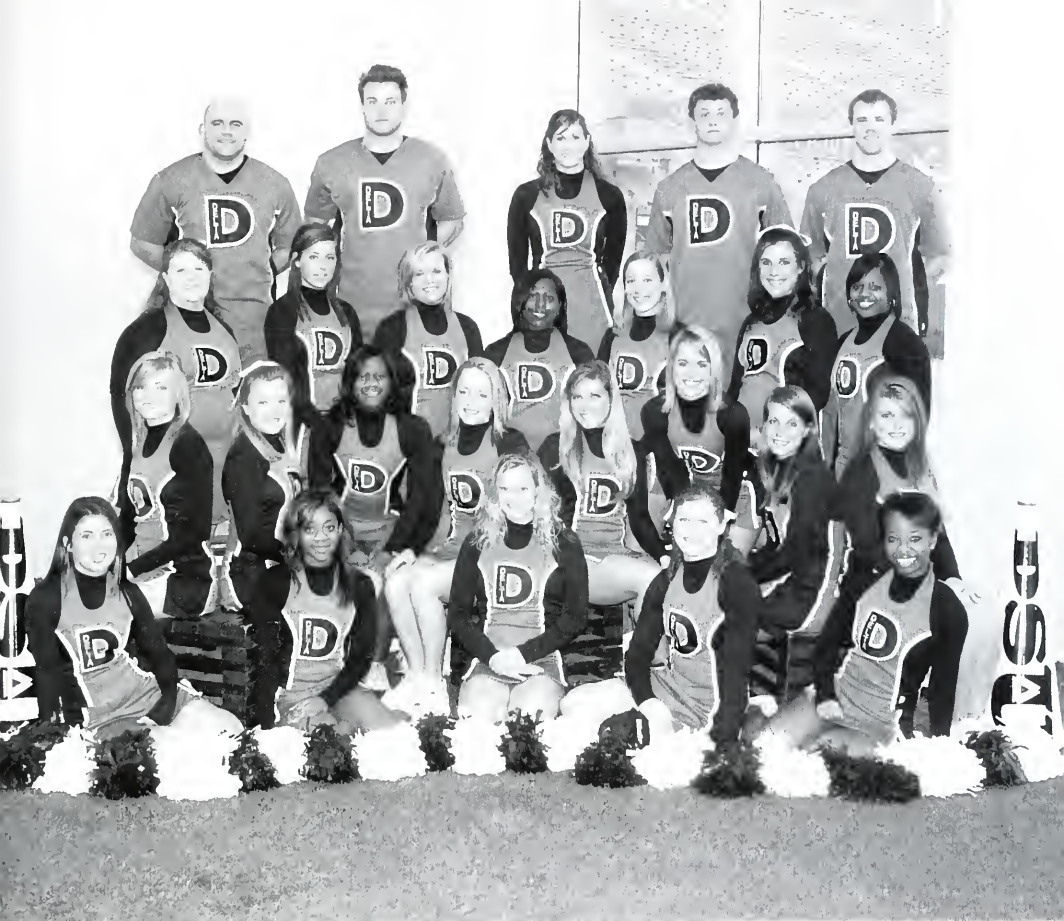

Josh Williams takes a shot to score for Delta State.

In Loving Memory of Dr. Charles Wagoner

Delta State University mourned the passing of Dr. Charles Wagoner. Dr. Wagoner, associate professor of economics, arrived on the Delta State campus in the fall of 1995. He quickly endeared himself as a lively, energetic asset to the University and the community. He served on various Delta State committees, including the College of Business' Division Curriculum Committee, the Honors Committee and the Attendance Committee. He was an accomplished researcher and scholar, having been published many times during his career. Dr. Billy C. Moore, Dean of the College of Business expressed, "His enthusiasm, collegial spirit and passion for life will be missed dearly by the Delta State University family."

In Loving Memory of Mr. John Quon

The passing of John Quon left the campus of Delta State in silence. Quon, 64, dedicated his life to the profession he loved – teaching and accounting. Quon spent 35 well respected years at Delta State, serving as the assistant professor of accountancy. “Mr. Quon believed in doing what was best for Delta State University, the College of Business, our students and the accounting profession.

He represents the epitome of our profession. He leaves behind a legacy of professionalism and dedication. His maintenance of high academic standards is legendary,” Dr. Billy C. Moore, Dean of the College of Business expressed.

Quon’s devotion to his students and the University was well known, well respected and well rewarded. John Quon will be greatly missed by everyone at Delta State University.

It is hard to believe that four years have passed since I stepped foot on the campus of Delta State. I never imagined the opportunities and friends that this University would bring to me. I am so grateful to have found a school that was perfect for me. I would like to thank everyone on the yearbook staff. I could never have done it without each one of you. I would like to thank Bill Moses and Leslie Mullis for not only helping me with the book, but also for being wonderful friends who were always there for me. Thanks to my family and friends who continued to encourage me through each deadline. I hope this book will provide each of you with wonderful memories. Thank you again for the opportunity to put this book together and for the wonderful memories.
